MYSTIC

Imdahl-Oviatt Wedding—Death of Anthonny Packer—Travelers Start for Norway.

Miss Cora B. Oviatt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Oviatt, and John Imdahl were united in marriage by Rev. Welcome E. Bates, pastor of the Union Baptist church, in their newly furnished home in Brighton, about 50 relatives and friends. Miss Catherine Burke was bridesmaid and Cornelius Cooke was best man.
The bride was attired in a blue traveling dress with hat to match. After a reception, Mr. and Mrs. Imdahl left on a wedding trip to New York and on their return will reside at Industrial place.

Postoffice Transfer.
The postoffice will be closed at 10 o'clock Sunday morning so as to allow a transfer of the postoffice administration. Every Sunday the mail has been left open during the day for all who wish to get their mail at their convenience, but on Sunday, the 21st, the lobby will close as well as the windows. The transfer will probably take all day, but the office will be open as usual on Monday morning, with Joseph F. Leahy in charge.

Bernhardt's Ill-Fated Role.
The character of Joan of Arc, in playing which she injured her knee, has been an unfortunate one for Mrs.
Sarah Bernhardt, for while sustaining the same role in another play some fifteen years ago she almost lost her life. At a rehearsal the store of powder prepared for ringing Joan round with sham fire exploded, and set the stage in flames. There was a panic, and Mrs. Bernhardt, overcome by the smoke and flames which surrounded her, might have shared the fate of the real Joan but for the quick action of a super who dashed in and rescued her.

VALUED PAINTING FOR WESTERLY

Wright's Portrait of Abraham Lincoln Loaned by Mystic Owner—District Court Cases Continued—Shower for Miss Sadie Phillips—Prof. E. K. Thomas Addresses Teachers.

A life-size portrait of Abraham Lincoln has been loaned to the Westerly public library by John Stanton Palmer of Mystic. The painting is by George Frederick Wright and is considered a valuable work of art. It has been hung at the west end of the art room in the Memorial building.
Mr. Palmer sent a letter to the board of trustees, to whom he has made the temporary loan, in which he tells the history of the masterpiece. He writes that Mr. Wright, the painter, visited Springfield, Ill., under a commission to paint the portrait of the president. In 1859, just prior to his departure for Washington to take the oath of office, some 20 years ago this widow of the artist, in an interview, stated that her husband became so attached to the personality of Mr. Lincoln during the sittings that he began another canvass for himself.
Mr. Palmer saw the picture for the first time in 1899, and did not succeed in purchasing it until 1904. At that time it was owned by Mr. and Mrs.
James Campbell, of New York, who was the daughter of the landowner who obtained the painting direct from the artist. Mr. Campbell, it might be of interest to know, was in Ford's theatre the night the assassin fired the shot which resulted in the death of the president.

Concerning the reputation of Mr.
Wright as an artist, the Encyclopedia of Painters and Paintings says:
"Among his portraits are many of the governors and other prominent men of Illinois and of Connecticut, and he was one of the best portrait painters of his time."

At the regular session of the Third District court, held at the courthouse on Union street Friday, Judge Oliver H. Williams presiding, the following cases were continued: Peter Lane vs.
Annie Broadfoot, Joseph A. Guarino vs. William Wilcox and Henry Walton vs. Henrietta Rose. Each case was continued for one week.

A shower was given Miss Sadie Phillips at the home of Miss Daisy Peabody on Spruce street at which members of the Non-Sibb club were present. Miss Phillips is soon to leave town to make her home in Pascoag.

The rooms were decorated in pink and white. The evening was spent in a delightful way, the guest of honor opening the numerous packages that filled a large basket and reading the original messages sent with the presents. Refreshments, all in pink and white, were served during the evening.

SPRING APPAREL

Now Claims All Attention

Militarism, the dominate idea, has had its effect upon the wearing apparel for women. The Short Coats with their swagger, military air, their patch pockets with buttoned flaps, their belts and their many buttons all are illustrative of this idea—and no matter how much you may deplore you will have to admit that these Coats are certainly clever.

The fuller Skirts, too, are a very noticeable feature of the Spring mode—a very agreeable change from the painfully scant Skirts of former seasons.

The new colors, Sand, Putty, Battleship Gray, Belgian Blue, and Petrograd add a stimulating note to the general effect, and really a Military Suit of sand colored covert cloth creates a decidedly good impression.
